Use the MLA Handbook to correct mistakes in the paragraphs below.

1. Wonder Woman came out in 2017 to roaring praise. Inspired by the television series that ran from 1976 to 1979, the film successfully captured the aesthetic and persona of Diana Prince that generations of women have been longing to see acted out on the big screen.

(Franks, 45).

2. Steve Jobs was a pioneer of technology who helped created one of the biggest tech companies of all time (Isaacson, page 5). Born to a single mother on Feb 24 1955 Jobs was placed for adoption with Paul and Clara Jobs as an infant. (Isaacson 3). He and his wife, Laurene, had three biological children together.

3. In the live-action remake of Beauty and The Beast, director and screenwriter Bill Condon used CGI to bring the servants to life in their symbolic inanimate objects. (Kate Erbland)

Dan Stevens who played the beast said that they used “more traditional motion capture puppeteering for the body and the physical orientation of the Beast. I was in a forty-pound gray suit on stilts for much of the film, and then the facial capture was done separately.” (Erbland).
